WALLACE R. FARRINGTON, EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1895.

ONE of the amusing incidents connected with United States Minister Baker's correspondence with his government on Nicaraguan matter, is his plea in a recent letter, "In heaven's name send me a calendar, for I don't believe there is one in Nicaragua." According to the last advice it would seem that more than one American has lost his reckoning upon Nicaraguan affairs and the study of an historical calendar would not be without its good effects.

NOT long since the Chicago Tribune asked its readers to submit plans for the arrangement of the stars in the field of the American flag, so that after Utah, which will add the forty-fifth star to the flag, is admitted, there will remain an unbroken field. One of the recommendations suggests an arrangement whereby space will remain not alone for Utah, but for New Mexico, Alaska, and as it is "always pleasing to find room for one more let us give it to Hawaii, waiting to join this bright galaxy. President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham to the contrary notwithstanding."

SPECIAL attention is called to the exhaustive and interesting report of the financial secretary of the Hawaiian Free Kindergarten given in another column. The growth of this work among the children has been phenomenal and is a splendid monument to the gratuitous labor of the ladies of the Woman's Board. It is now the intention to bring these schools under a distinct organization and extend the accommodations to supply the needs consequent to a constant increase in popularity among the people of every nationality. Too much cannot be said in favor of these schools, and no institutions existing by public subscription have a stronger claim to unloose the purse strings of the men and women thoughtful of the future welfare of the nation.

TAI YIN CHEO, a student of the University of Michigan, in a recent magazine article protests against the use of the word Chinaman instead of Chinese. He states as to the word Chinaman itself, there is nothing good or bad in it, but it somehow involves a sort of contemptuous idea which has been felt by many of the literary men of his country. There is evidently a strong vein of sentiment running through the young man's character, and his plea is based upon much the same feeling that causes the Chinese to resent "John" and accept "Charlie" as a universal method of addressing them. After all, the dignity or lack of dignity implied in the word depends upon the people of China, in whom lies the power of inspiring quite as much respect in the term Chinaman as Chinese.

ONE PALMER DEPARTS.

It is said the phantom ship, "Lying Dutchman," of which one Palmer is skipper, will leave port tomorrow. Her charter, by the Evening Post, of New York, to cruise in the Pacific in search of falsehoods and freaks, is about to end, and she returns with a cargo of consummate lies and marketable fables, which will be as toothsome to the editor of the Nation as a course of rotten eggs is to a Chinese mandarin.

It is said that at San Francisco the "Lying Dutchman" will take on board that freak, Joaquin Miller. It was he who wrote last year, "I like the cows' breath in sweet Spring; I like the breath of a babe's new born."

And he should have added: "But for an all-the-year-round breath, Give me that of Skipper Palmer."

Should he become a passenger, Skipper P. might furnish him with a pair of trousers cut out of the many and varied certificates which he has received for successfully navigating the NIGHTINGALE through a raging canal, and for skillful conduct in escaping from a school of fierce but rotten mackerel.

The custom house people say that in the invoices of the "Lying Dutchman," every article which on the most critical examination shows that it is a "veracity," is at once thrown out. No inflammable matter, like the truth, is permitted on board. Statements which polarize 99 per cent. of pure malice and cussedness are at a premium. The skipper never gives an order to a foremast hand, but means the contrary. Salt junk is called ter-rapin. The cabin boy was "mast-headed" for three days for saying that two and two make four.

The "Lying Dutchman," Skipper P. commanding, takes a most valuable invoice of pictures, painted with the skipper's own hand (which even Leprosy, out of self respect, refused to touch.) No. 1. "Minister Willis with a drawn sword preventing a slaughter of American prisoners." No. 2. "The irresponsible court martial which tried the prisoners." All of these are barefooted, and in a half nude, savage condition. No. 3. "The trembling committee, who crouched under the table when Marshal Wilson shook his finger at it." No. 4. "Captain P. ascending on a rope to hold a midnight interview with the ex-queen, in the Executive building, against Mr. Dole's permission." Very rare. Notice how the captain holds to the rope with one hand, while he dangles in the air, and extends to her the other hand, uttering the words, "Escape and fly with me from the Hawaiian Bastille."

There is a rumor that Skipper P. has demanded that Admiral Beardslee with the Philadelphia accompany the L. D. and protect her precious freight. As the ex-queen says in her diary, "how cheeky!"

We regret that the Executive has not permitted the skipper to take a post-monarchy kiss from the regal prison house to the unknown but loyal defenders of the native civilization, who have put the N. Y. Evening Post at its feet. Unwashed poet, cantankerous skipper of the "Lying Dutchman," farewell!

Any one who reads Mr. Ashford's sayings to San Francisco reporters must read between the lines to understand that he does not mean half that he is reported as saying. Mr. Ashford was long enough in Hawaii to convince the people that he can tell the difference between "a'au hank" and "au saw," and that he understands full well the value of silence. He has about as much intention of heading a filibustering expedition as he has of returning here and standing as a candidate for office. C. W. is a little joker and the interview with the reporter in 'Frisco was one of his jokes. When Mr. Ashford left here, his main thought was to do something in the behalf of his brother. The people here who know him will not believe that a filibustering expedition is in the line of assistance to that person.

Some time ago, we purchased a lot of European wire and immediately afterward some parties circulated a report that the quality had been affected by some unknown cause and that it was not up to the standard of the American product. We had a half dozen coils of the wire tested at the Iron Works and it showed a tensile strength of 2760 pounds. When this report was published in this column, the wire was sought after by plantation managers and individuals from Niihau to Hawaii. The other day, to oblige a skeptic, we ordered a hundred coils of American wire from the Coast and as it reached the store, we sent a half dozen coils to the foundry to have it tested. The result showed a tensile strength of 768 pounds or about 2000 less than the European article. We violate no confidence when we tell you that this American wire will not be sold by us. We have an abundance of the European article and can supply all sizes and in any quantity. This wire with the steel stays and galvanized washers comprise the material necessary to use in making the celebrated Jones' Locked Fence than which no stronger, cheaper or better fence was ever made.

Our new stock of Dietz Oil Stoves are going as rapidly as can be expected with times as hard as they are. That it is a good stove, no one who has ever tried them will deny. They are absolutely safe, because there is no possible way by which they can explode; they are free from unpleasant odors, because they are made on the most approved plans; they are economical, because directly you are through cooking you extinguish the flame. Twenty-four dollars invested in one of these stoves will save you a pot of money in twelve months.

The Australia brought us the latest thing in tea strainers; they fasten close up to the spout and the leaves are bound to be caught in the strainer. Handsomely nickel plated and we sell them for fifty cents.

We are having a run on the Alaska refrigerators, because they are the best ever brought to Honolulu. We sold one to a lady who had been taking twenty pounds of ice a day. When we assured her that she could reduce the quantity half the amount, she laughed at us. It was just ten days after she commenced using it that she came in and reported that she now buys just half the quantity of ice she formerly did.

HERE'S AN IDEA!

A CHANCE TO GET A

Pair of Shoes

—FOR—

Ten Minutes Work!

The question among the business men of Honolulu is.....

DOES

ADVERTISING

PAY?

To solve the problem as well as to ascertain whether advertisements attract the attention of newspaper readers, we offer a pair of our best $5.00 shoes ($6.50 anywhere else) to the person who sends us, under the head of "Wanted," the cleverest advertisement of our shoes.

It must be original, concise, and to the point. It must not be longer than any ordinary want ad. found in the daily papers.

Advertisement to be written on one side of white paper and signed by the competitor's full name and address. State the name of the paper in which you saw this notice and enclose your effort in an envelope marked.....

The Beauty

OF SOME PIANOS

Is only "case deep." It is much easier to make a handsome case than it is to put music into it. A tolerable mechanic can do the one—the other requires the best thought of a musical artist.

The Kroeger Pianos

All have "handsome, tasteful, durable cases; but in their factory constant, careful, studious attention is given to the production of a perfect and lasting tone. The beauty and honesty of a Kroeger begins with the varnish on the case, and goes straight through to the iron plate that holds the strings. We'd like to show you the inside of a Kroeger.

Pianos kept in tune for one year gratis. Old instruments taken in exchange. Tuning and Repairing a specialty.

STRANGE CASE OF MR. JOHN LITTLEJOHN.

Paine's Celery Compound CURES When Ordinary Remedies Fail.

The position of the physician who deals with the nervous and the feeble, the pained, the hysterical, the sleepless, is one of the utmost gravity.

Prolonged strain of mind and body, or of both, is apt to result all too quickly in sudden collapse.

One of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen, who was for years the most prominent man upon the faculty of Dartmouth, realizing the extent of the physician's responsibility, set about to discover a remedy that should build up the nervous system, and cure the ills that result from impoverished blood and diseased nerves. He discovered that greatest of all remedies, Paine's Celery Compound, and submitted the formula to fellow physicians.

There was no secret about it. The formula from that time until now has been furnished, whenever asked for, to reputable physicians, and they have time and again examined it, and knowing that it is good, have recommended it to those who are sick.

No other remedy was ever so highly endorsed, and so generally used and recommended by physicians.

Dr. William Horne, who for a dozen years has been one of the most prominent editors, of and writers for, medical journals, writing in May of last year, said:

"I have been using Paine's Celery Compound for six weeks for myself and wife. I am, like all graduated M. D.'s, opposed to all proprietary remedies. I was induced to try the Celery Compound after reading Commodore Howell's letter. I feel conscientiously inclined to testify to the building-up qualities of the Celery Compound. I am just finishing the sixth bottle. I have recommended the Compound to many."

"For five years I have been afflicted each season with excessive nervousness; so sensitive was I that any little noise caused me to start and flutter. This extreme nervous condition induced an unpleasant affliction of eczema, a partly nervous disease with me. For five seasons I have been full of itching, red eruptive spots. Three weeks ago, this condition came upon me again, but with much more excessive nervous prostration. I commenced taking the Paine's Celery Compound. My unpleasant nervous condition is entirely gone. I sleep well and have a good appetite. My dyspepsia is gone and I easily digest all I eat."

"I enclose the case of Mr. Littlejohn of Janesville, Wis."

"Some four years ago last June, Mr. John Littlejohn complained to me of a peculiar sensation in his head and neck, right side. I examined him closely and told him he had a blood clot at the base of the brain. I thought, or a small tumor pushing upon the nerves at the base of the brain. I recommended him to one of the best physicians, Dr. J. B. W. He went and the doctor made his diagnosis. I saw the doctor the next day, and he said he had found some undue pressure at the base of the brain. Dr. W.'s diagnosis was the same as my own, although we had neither of us known any thing about the other's diagnosis. There was some uneasy twitching of the facial muscles on the right side, and especially of the right eye."

"Mr. Littlejohn seemed to be completely unbalanced and 'jerky,' and quite unsteady. This is a truthful statement of Mr. Littlejohn's condition. He tried every conceivable remedy, by the recommendation of some eight or ten physicians in Janesville, Chicago, Milwaukee, and other places. All the treatment failed to relieve him. I recommended Paine's Celery Compound."

"He tried it, and by a steady, persistent use of the Celery Compound, he completely cured himself of the worst case of extreme nervous prostration and excitement that I ever saw. Mr. Littlejohn informs me that he has spent over $5,000 in doctoring, without good. He thoroughly tried Celery Compound. It completely cured him."

"Mr. Littlejohn himself writes: 'I have been a traveling man for a great many years, and the exposure and worry that follow business transactions, caused me to break down with nervous prostration so that for several days they thought I was dying. Besides this, I had the creeping paralysis in my left arm, hand, and side, so that they were almost entirely useless, and I had a most severe case of catarrh to the extent that it almost destroyed my eye sight and ruined my hearing. I had no sense of taste whatever for two years. I had all this so that I was used completely up for five years, so you can judge of my condition. After all of these doctors failing, I finally cured myself by using Paine's Celery Compound.'

Is there a sick person who can afford not to try a bottle of this wonderful remedy?
